

Jean-Claude Colin

was the founder of the Marist Fathers – priests and brothers of the Society of Mary

Born at the close of the 18th century in revolution-torn France, Jean-Claude was convinced that the Blessed Virgin wanted a group of men and women to do her work in the world at a time of turmoil and challenge.

With this inspiration he forged the way for a new family of consecrated religious and of laity in the Church - the Marist family.

Under his leadership, as founder and father, Marist missionaries would proclaim Christ's message in Mary's gentle spirit 'on whatever distant shore' to which they were sent.

Today Marists throughout the world pray that he will become better known and revered.

As his cause for beatification is introduced, they seek graces through his intercession for themselves and the people they serve.

Jean-Claude Colin

was the founder of the Marist Fathers – priests and brothers of the Society of Mary

Born at the close of the 18th century in revolution-torn France, Jean-Claude was convinced that the Blessed Virgin wanted a group of men and women to do her work in the world at a time of turmoil and challenge.

With this inspiration he forged the way for a new family of consecrated religious and of laity in the Church - the Marist family.

Under his leadership, as founder and father, Marist missionaries would proclaim Christ's message in Mary's gentle spirit 'on whatever distant shore' to which they were sent.

Today Marists throughout the world pray that he will become better known and revered.

As his cause for beatification is introduced, they seek graces through his intercession for themselves and the people they serve.

Jean-Claude Colin

was the founder of the Marist Fathers – priests and brothers of the Society of Mary

Born at the close of the 18th century in revolution-torn France, Jean-Claude was convinced that the Blessed Virgin wanted a group of men and women to do her work in the world at a time of turmoil and challenge.

With this inspiration he forged the way for a new family of consecrated religious and of laity in the Church - the Marist family.

Under his leadership, as founder and father, Marist missionaries would proclaim Christ's message in Mary's gentle spirit 'on whatever distant shore' to which they were sent.

Today Marists throughout the world pray that he will become better known and revered.

As his cause for beatification is introduced, they seek graces through his intercession for themselves and the people they serve.

Jean-Claude Colin

was the founder of the Marist Fathers – priests and brothers of the Society of Mary

Born at the close of the 18th century in revolution-torn France, Jean-Claude was convinced that the Blessed Virgin wanted a group of men and women to do her work in the world at a time of turmoil and challenge.

With this inspiration he forged the way for a new family of consecrated religious and of laity in the Church - the Marist family.

Under his leadership, as founder and father, Marist missionaries would proclaim Christ's message in Mary's gentle spirit 'on whatever distant shore' to which they were sent.

Today Marists throughout the world pray that he will become better known and revered.

As his cause for beatification is introduced, they seek graces through his intercession for themselves and the people they serve.

For more about Fr Colin
go to...

www.jeanclaudecolin.org

For more about Fr Colin
go to...

www.jeanclaudecolin.org

For more about Fr Colin
go to...

www.jeanclaudecolin.org

For more about Fr Colin
go to...

www.jeanclaudecolin.org